Local security guide - Kalgoorlie WA 6430 - Goldfields, City of Kalgoorlie-Boulder

About Kalgoorlie

Kalgoorlie is about 600 km east of Perth.

Kalgoorlie is the heart of the Eastern Goldfields and part of the City of Kalgoorlie-Boulder, with the Hannan Street heritage shops and hotels, the Super Pit gold mine, Kalgoorlie Health Campus and a WA School of Mines campus. WA Police recorded 2,527 selected offences in the Kalgoorlie locality in 2025-26, up from 2,320 the year before, and neighbouring Boulder recorded a further 2,131. Stealing (600) was the largest group, followed by drug offences (353), property damage (264) and non-family assault (263), and there were 239 fraud offences.

Housing and local context

Housing stock: Heritage miners' cottages and hotels in the centre, post-war homes, and newer brick homes and estates.

Kalgoorlie's centre has heritage buildings from the gold rush along Hannan Street, with miners' cottages and post-war homes in the older streets and newer brick homes and estates further out. Many residents work at the mines on shifts or rosters, and utes, trailers, camping gear and tools are often kept at home. Industrial areas and mine-supply businesses need yard security and after-hours alarms.

Common security concerns in Kalgoorlie

- Theft of tools, bikes and gear from homes and vehicles
- Property damage
- Yards and businesses after hours

Local tip: Lock away tools, bikes and gear

Stealing was the largest offence group in Kalgoorlie last year, with 600 offences. Lock sheds, garages and vehicles, bring tools, bikes and camping gear inside, and don't leave anything worth taking in utes or on trailers overnight. For businesses, cameras covering yards, loading areas and car parks and a monitored alarm with patrol response help protect stock and equipment.
