Local security guide - Rosebery NT 0832 - Palmerston, City of Palmerston

About Rosebery

Rosebery is about 22 km south-east of Darwin City.

Rosebery is a Palmerston suburb south-east of Darwin, built mostly in the 2000s, with a mix of houses, townhouses and units. At the 2021 Census, 4,127 people lived in Rosebery in about 1,302 occupied homes: 68% separate houses, 21% townhouses or semi-detached homes and 11% apartments, and 52% of homes were rented.

Housing and local context

Housing stock: Family homes from the 2000s, townhouses and units.

Rosebery has family homes built mostly in the 2000s, townhouse complexes and blocks of units, many with carports and small tropical yards. About 21% of homes were townhouses or semi-detached at the 2021 Census.

Common security concerns in Rosebery

- Rented homes where changes need approval
- Townhouse complexes
- Carports rather than garages

Local tip: Security for renters

About 52% of Rosebery homes were rented at the 2021 Census. Renters can ask the owner for locking screens and deadlocks, and add portable options such as battery cameras, a video doorbell and door and window sensors that move with them. Put requests in writing.

Before you hire: checklist

- Look up the licence number on the relevant state regulator register and confirm it is current.
- Check the ABN on the Australian Business Register (abr.business.gov.au).
- Hardwired 240V work needs a licensed electrician; in-wall data cabling needs an ACMA-registered cabler.
- For guards and patrols, confirm both the firm licence and each attending officer's licence.
- Get at least three written quotes listing camera models, recorder storage and warranty.
- Aim cameras at your own property and consider disabling audio on cameras facing shared areas.
